ANNUAL REPORT

“Together, we have the power to change lives.”

Dear Friends and Alumni

I am always struck by the number of people in the community who approach me at events, functions and even the grocery store, to comment on the impact Dutchess Community College has had on their lives or those of their loved ones. Part of our region's educational, cultural and social fabric for almost 55 years, the College has touched the hearts and minds of tens of thousands of our friends and neighbors. Few institutions have had the privilege of serving our community so positively and profoundly for decades.

I hope you share my pride in our faculty and staff, who each and every day, help students reach their potential and equip them for success at a four-year college, in the workplace and in life. A recent letter sent to me by an alumna of the class of 2000, regarding her wonderful experience at DCC – particularly as a student of newly retired History Professor George Stevens – clearly illustrates the role the College plays in shaping lives. Now a professional who holds a Master's degree, she wrote: “I didn't expect enlightenment of such duration when I signed up to take this [Professor Stevens'] class. I never knew I would relish being a student, as I was a 30-year-old nontraditional student. I came to DCC a broken person; I graduated an empowered woman with a degree and so many goals to reach!” Personal stories such as this often come my way, and they always are welcome confirmation of why we are here.

The important work continues. I am happy to report that nearly 10,500 students enrolled at Dutchess Community College in fall 2012, continuing a three-year trend of record enrollment. Ours remains the college of choice for college-bound Dutchess County high school graduates, with 37% choosing to enroll at DCC directly after graduation. Our new residence hall (opened in fall 2012) provides additional opportunities for students who wish to combine the benefits of a community college education with the experience of living on a college campus.

At the College's 53rd commencement in May, associate degrees and career certificates were conferred on almost 1,200 graduates. It is interesting to note that more DCC graduates than ever are transferring to four-year colleges, which indicates that our students are motivated, well-prepared and successful.

The College has earned a reputation for providing an outstanding education while, for the 13th consecutive year, charging the lowest tuition in New York state. While this makes DCC more accessible than most other colleges, many of our students are facing difficulty in these challenging economic times.

You can make a very real and lasting difference in the lives of deserving students by making a donation in support of Foundation scholarships. More than 150 DCC students received scholarships totaling $110,000 at our 2012 Convocation. Through the generosity of our alumni, faculty, staff, community and others who are committed to educating the next generation of DCC graduates, we hope to continue expanding our scholarship program.

Together, we have the power to change lives. Thank you for your support of our students, DCC and the Foundation.

Dear Friends of DCC

We truly are blessed here at DCC! We have fabulous and dedicated instructors, hard-working staff to support them, more than 10,000 students, and an administration and President who always work to enhance educational opportunities and keep them affordable for area residents. Our Foundation’s partnership with the College brings together your donations with the College’s efforts to provide a high level of teaching and outstanding educational opportunities.

Many of our students are struggling to pay for their education and continue moving toward their degree. We at the Foundation depend on gifts like yours to help them succeed. A majority of our students stay in the Hudson Valley after graduation, or return to our area after completing a four-year degree elsewhere. DCC helps workers in our area continue to be cutting-edge in their fields; whether it is in nursing, the arts, marketing, technology or countless other fields. With more than 60 programs offered, we are the only solution for so many!

The Foundation is so fortunate that alumni, business owners and other loyal supporters continue to help our students every year! We thank you for your generous gifts, be they large or small, current or a bequest, a restricted scholarship or an unrestricted donation that is used where the funds are most needed.

Thanking you, in advance, for your future gifts and for your past support.

Dear Friends of DCC

I am pleased to present the Annual Report for 2011-2012.

We are so thankful for our Alumni giving, which increased by 20% over the year before and, in the last 10 years, has increased a whopping 185%. This is incredibly important as the Foundation continues to fund more than 200 scholarships each year valued at $380,000 collectively. We are proud of our support for the students of the Hudson Valley, and you too should be proud!

Friends and faculty/staff of the College are another group of terrific donors. In the last 10 years they have contributed more than $2,600,000 and our emeriti faculty donated nearly $1,000,000. We are overwhelmed by this generosity. Thanks to the support of so many like you, who reached into your pockets and found room in your hearts, even in these uncertain financial times, to give even more than in the past, we have accomplished a lot.

Watch for new alumni events in the coming year! We want to welcome you back to campus and get to know your families. After all, you are the face of DCC every day in the community. Your support is crucial.

We continue to move forward with confidence, because of the loyalty and dedication of our extraordinary community. You are the tangible evidence of the contribution DCC makes to the Hudson Valley! The future could not be brighter, and I am grateful for all that you do to make it so.

Dear DCC Alumni and Friends

Allow me to introduce myself; my name is Luke Cierniak. It has been an honor to serve as this year's Student Government Association (SGA) President and as the Student Trustee on the Dutchess Community College board. I am pursuing a double major in Criminal Justice and Business, and will receive my associate degree in Criminal Justice this May.

I came to Dutchess Community College in the Fall of 2010 after taking a year off from high school. Performing poorly in high school had soured me toward continuing my education, but thanks to a few of my friends, I was encouraged to attend.

My first semester I had little to no interest in attending my classes nor did I have a drive to really excel academically. I never talked to any of my fellow students in class and when my class was over I would just go home. I finished my first semester with a 2.7 GPA, and as a student who never did really well, I thought that was pretty good. My second semester was almost an exact repeat of the first, with the exception of talking to my peers and some professors. By the end of that spring semester I had become more comfortable with who I was and where I was going, and I owe a great deal of thanks to one professor, Barbara McArdle. She approached me about joining the Criminal Justice Club (CRJ Club) and becoming its president. This was something I knew nothing about. I was terrified of fellow students looking at me to dictate the club's future. Ever since that day, my life has turned around.

I went from doing nothing with my time and not wanting to excel to not having enough time and wanting nothing more than to get straight A's. I came to realize the importance of getting involved and stepping out of your comfort zone. If it wasn't for that one moment I don't know where I would be today. Through the CRJ Club I found SGA and learned what exactly it meant for the students and the campus. I saw the power that the SGA had to make a positive difference, not only on campus but in the community as well. I became very active in the events that were held on campus and became friends with many of my fellow students.

This year as the Student Government President, I carry with me what Mrs. McArdle sent my way - encouragement. For the fall semester we had a record number of senator applicants; we have raised money for several charities, including the Students for Students Emergency Fund, the Hurricane Sandy Relief Drive and Toys for Tots. Currently we are planning many other events and activities to help the community and encourage others to give back. I could not be more proud of my fellow students for all of their hard work and dedication; without their help none of our initiatives would have been possible.

As a scholarship recipient (Dr. D. David Conklin Scholarship for Student Leadership) I am very grateful for your generosity and continuing support of this amazing college. Dutchess Community College not only has provided me with an outstanding education, but it also has shown me the power of community, and has given me the tools and support to find my path. I have had the honor and privilege to work alongside other students who are recipients of scholarships and I am constantly being reminded of how grateful they are for these awards. For many students a scholarship is the deciding factor that enables them to continue their education.

In conclusion, I would like to thank the Foundation for all of its hard work and generosity and the Alumni who, like you, generously give each year to create and fund these scholarships. These awards not only allow students to continue their education at an outstanding college, but also help them become better community members by teaching the values of giving back and helping those in need. I can say firsthand that your generosity has helped me become who I am, and I will continue to do my part and give back. I am proud to say that soon I will be a Dutchess Community College Alumni.

Luke Cierniak

Joe Porter (center) and Joe Hill (right), pictured at graduation, became friends at DCC and followed similar paths, transferring to Cornell University after graduation. Each credits the resources and people at DCC with preparing them to move into the ivy leagues.

“DCC is a place with abundant resources that can assist a student’s development, regardless of their academic pursuits,” said Porter. “The faculty and staff encourage students to ask questions and to challenge themselves. Every professor that I encountered taught not only the material, but universal skills such as time management and good study habits.”

Hill also has found his time at DCC to be rewarding. “At DCC, a wide range of on-campus experiences helped me thrive,” he said. “Intellectually stimulating classes, academic resources, a beautiful campus and the fellow students with whom I made invaluable friendships, all combined to prepare me for Cornell.”

County's Top Graduates Earn Full Scholarships

Thirty-nine Dutchess Community College freshmen were awarded the 2011 Charles E. and Mabel E. Conklin Scholarship for Academic Excellence last fall. When combined with the Conklin scholars who began at DCC in fall 2010, a record 80 students benefited from the initiative last year. The Conklin Scholarship provides full tuition for any Dutchess County high school student who graduates in the top 10% of his or her class. Conklin scholars have gone on to top four-year colleges – including Cornell, RPI, Smith, Vassar, Marist and SUNY schools – after graduating from DCC.

The scholarships were established 17 years ago through the DCC Foundation and subsequently funded by Charles and Mabel Conklin.

Lecture Series Brings Luminaries to Campus

Dr. James Waller, professor and Cohen Chair of Holocaust and Genocide Studies at Keene State College in New Hampshire, came to DCC in December 2011 to discuss “Becoming Evil: How Ordinary People Commit Genocide and Mass Killing.”

In Waller’s presentation, and book of the same name, he explored both historic and current acts of genocide and the multiple factors that influence human behavior and can lead to acts of mass killing.

His book was short-listed for the biennial Raphael Lemkin Award from the International Association of Genocide Scholars. In addition, Publisher’s Weekly praised the book for “clearly and effectively synthesizing a wide range of studies to develop an original and persuasive model of the process by which people can become evil.”

The lecture was arranged by DCC History Professor Dr. Werner Steger, recipient of the Greenspan Trust-Handel Foundation Endowed Chair in Holocaust and Genocide Studies. The event was sponsored by the DCC Foundation.

Vassar College Sociology Professor Diane Harriford came to DCC in March 2012 to give a lecture about the importance of broad-based education titled “Liberal Arts and the Community College Student.”

The discussion focused on how diverse offerings can illuminate new opportunities for students, and advanced the belief that college should be viewed as more than a place to build skills before starting a career.

Dr. Harriford had been an assistant to former Congresswoman Bella Abzug. She also worked closely with the Coalition of Labor Union Women. Currently, Dr. Harriford is involved in the National Women’s Studies Association among other groups. She has taught sociology, women’s studies and African American studies at Vassar for more than 20 years.

The lecture was presented by the Llelanie Orcutt Endowed Faculty Chair and facilitated by Dr. Navina Hooker, a professor in DCC’s department of English and Humanities.

Jeff Shesol, historian, communications strategist and former speechwriter for President Bill Clinton, gave a presentation called “Supreme Power: FDR’s Court Fight - and Barack Obama’s” in April 2012.

Shesol discussed the battle between President Franklin Roosevelt and the conservative majority of the Supreme Court, which rejected the major principles of the president’s New Deal, prompting Roosevelt’s subsequent strategy to pack the court with liberals. In addition, Shesol talked about President Obama’s relationship with the Supreme Court and its decision on campaign spending and deliberation on health care reform.

Shesol’s most recent book is called “Supreme Power: Franklin Roosevelt vs. The Supreme Court.” His previous book, “Mutual Contempt: Lyndon Johnson, Robert Kennedy and the Feud That Defined a Decade,” was a New York Times Notable Book of the Year and a Washington Post Critic’s Choice. He was Deputy Chief Speechwriter for President Clinton, playing a leading role in creating two State of the Union Addresses among hundreds of others between 1997 and 2000. A Rhodes Scholar, Shesol earned his master’s degree from Oxford University.

The lecture was sponsored by the Handel Family Endowed Faculty Chair to Perpetuate the Legacy of Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt, Dutchess Community College and the Gillespie Forum. Shesol was invited to campus by Dr. Andrew Rieser, associate professor in DCC’s History, Government and Economics Department.

More Than $100,000 in Scholarships Awarded to Students

At the Honors Convocation in May, 150 students either starting their second year at DCC or graduating and entering four-year colleges in the fall, were recognized for outstanding achievements and received scholarships totaling more than $110,000. More than $1.1 million in scholarships has been awarded by the DCC Foundation in the Convocation ceremonies since they began 16 years ago.

The scholarships are funded by individuals and organizations to reward academic excellence. To learn more about establishing a scholarship, contact the DCC Foundation at (845) 431-8400.

A New Chapter in the History of DCC Begins: Students Move Into New Residence Hall

When 465 excited students — boxes, suitcases and supplies in hand and parents in tow — moved into Conklin Hall on August 25, 2012, it marked a momentous event in their lives, and in the history of DCC. Six years in the planning, the new, on-campus, suite-style residence hall is the first at any community college in the region, although more than half the community colleges in the state now have — or are in the process of building — student housing. It is expected that in the next four years, all but a handful will offer housing to enable students to combine the quality, affordability and other benefits of a community college education with the experience of living away at school.

Unlike most freshman and sophomore housing, Conklin Hall has large suite-style units (averaging 1,100 square feet) with assorted bedroom configurations, two bathrooms, kitchenette (with full-sized refrigerator, microwave and sink) and living room. It also features lounges on each floor, a multi-purpose atrium, fitness center, laundry facilities, cable television and wireless Internet service and other amenities. The residence hall — which the DCC Board of Trustees named in honor of President Conklin's 20 years of service to the College and his vision in bringing student housing to campus — is conveniently located near academic buildings and adjacent to Parking Lot D.

Seeing their new home-away-from-home for the first time, students and their parents clearly were impressed by its design, spaciousness and amenities. "This looks like a really great place to live while I'm going to DCC," said student Ashleigh Graham-Clarke as she moved in. "I never expected it to be so nice!" While students were excited about their accommodations and meeting their roommates, parents were particularly impressed by the building's safety and security features, including 24-hour security, video monitoring of public spaces, noncombustible construction, sprinklers throughout, central entrance with controlled access and on-site staff supervision, including a Director of Residence Life, three graduate assistants and 10 resident assistants.

The building also incorporates geothermal technology for heating and cooling, as does Bowne Hall, an administration/academic building on the campus.

"The residence hall creates a living and learning environment that fosters academic and personal growth," said President Conklin. "Experience shows that having a residence hall on a community college campus also enhances the environment for commuting students, as there is more participation in clubs, lectures, plays, concerts, athletics and other activities that benefit the entire student body."

The $33 million, 136,000 square foot residence hall is owned and operated by the DCC Association, which secured tax-exempt bonds for the project with the assistance of the Dutchess County Industrial Development Agency; construction was financed by

M&T Bank. Construction services were provided by: Kirchhoff Consigli Construction Management (project manager); Liscum McCormack VanVoorhis LLC (architect); The Chazen Companies (civil engineer); Erdman Anthony (electrical and mechanical engineer); and Johnson Controls (geothermal system).

A ribbon cutting ceremony for Conklin Hall was held in August. Speakers at the event included DCC Board of Trustees Chair Thomas LeGrand, President Conklin, County Executive Marc Molinaro, Ray VanVoorhis of Liscum McCormack VanVoorhis LLP and Joseph Kirchhoff of Kirchhoff-Consigli. It was noted that Molinaro, as well as Liscum, McCormack, VanVoorhis, Kirchhoff and many of the employees on the construction team are DCC alumni.

The building opened to full occupancy. Visit www.sunydutchess.edu/dorm or e-mail studenthousing@sunydutchess.edu for more information.

County Executive Delivers President's Breakfast Keynote

Almost 200 Dutchess County business and community leaders, friends and donors gathered in January 2012 for the 19th Annual DCC President's Breakfast, which affords an opportunity for guests to visit campus and hear about the College's activities over the past year.

The keynote address was given by Marc Molinaro, Dutchess County Executive and a 2001 graduate of DCC.

Molinaro spoke about how his DCC education contributed to his success in public service.

"This campus encourages and inspires people to be creative," he said. "The classroom environment fostered by DCC's faculty members is very conducive to debate and independent thought, and I've taken that experience with me into public life."

He added that DCC has proven itself to be an asset to students and the county as a whole,

playing a role in creating jobs and preparing students for transfer to four-year schools.

The President's Breakfast was sponsored by TD Bank and hosted by the Dutchess Community College Foundation, which raises funds for student scholarships and academic initiatives. The Foundation granted more than $300,000 in student scholarships last year.

Utility Company Executive Named Business Person of the Year

Almost 200 guests came to DCC in June for the 2012 Poughkeepsie Journal Business Person of the Year luncheon to honor award recipient Steven V. Lant, chairman, president and CEO of CH Energy Group.

Under Lant's leadership, Central Hudson/CH Energy Group won the Edison Electric Institute (EEI) Emergency Response Award in February 2010 for the "Twin Peaks" winter storm and the American Gas Association Safety Award two years in a row for workplace safety. The company outperformed the S&P 500 and EEI utility stock index over the last five years. The next major step for CH Energy Group – its acquisition for $1.5 billion by Fortis Inc., the largest investor-owned distribution utility in Canada – is expected to be completed in 2013.

Lant's not-for-profit board affiliations include the Astor Children's Fund, The American Heart Association, the Hudson Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Abilities First, United Way of Dutchess County, the Hudson Valley Economic Development Corporation, Health Quest, Vassar Brothers Medical Center, Business Council of New York State and Edison Electric Institute.

The Poughkeepsie Journal Business Person of the Year Award is presented annually to recognize an individual whose leadership, hard work and dedication has made a measurable impact on the economic viability and vitality of the region. The recipient is selected by a panel of judges from various sectors of the community, and each year a brick engraved in the awardee's honor is placed in the DCC Pine Grove Patio.

The award luncheon was co-sponsored by the Poughkeepsie Journal, the DCC Foundation and the law firm of Corbally, Gartland and Rappleyea.

Graduation Another Record-Breaker

DCC celebrated its 53rd Commencement May 17, graduating almost 1,200 students. The ceremony was held under sunny skies on the Falcon Hall North Lawn on DCC's main campus; more than 4,000 were in attendance. In addition, the ceremony was streamed live on the Internet and viewed by hundreds of friends and family members across the country and abroad.

Associate degrees and career certificates in 47 programs of study were conferred on 1,176 graduates, who ranged in age from 18 to 65. Associate in Science degrees were awarded to 42 percent of the students; 25 percent received Associate in Applied Science degrees; 22 percent received Associate in Arts degrees; and about 9 percent earned certificates. Almost 39 percent of the class graduated with honors, having achieved a 3.2 GPA or higher.

In his address, President Conklin congratulated the graduates and recognized the family members, friends, faculty and staff who supported and encouraged them as they pursued their education. He also noted the importance of faculty and staff members who are committed to the success of DCC students.

"When I talk to former graduates about how Dutchess Community College has changed their lives, they always mention one or two faculty or professional staff who had a special impact on them and encouraged them to excel," said Conklin. "That support and encouragement – and that of their families – will serve today's graduates well in their future educational or professional pursuits."

The keynote speaker was James Fedorchak ('67), County Attorney for Dutchess County and member of the DCC Foundation Board of Directors. Other speakers included DCC Board of Trustees Chair Thomas LeGrand, Dr. Laura Murphy, history professor, and Student Government Association President Tony Beaudoin.

Planned Giving

Even 1 Percent Matters

Why Give a Percentage of Your Estate?

You may think you don't have enough money to donate and make any kind of impact, but that simply isn't true. Your gift, no matter the size, can ensure a future for Dutchess Community College and influence the lives of those who rely on it.

Put it this way: The majority of American adults give to a charitable organization each year—even in these tumultuous economic times. Meanwhile, only 8 percent of charitable giving dollars in 2010 came from donations made from wills.<sup>1</sup>

Yet, giving through your will won't affect your current income.

For those of you who want to help Dutchess Community College, but don't know where to begin because of time or money limitations, a bequest in your will or revocable living trust is a great place to start. It also allows you to make contributions—similar to annual donations—after you've passed.

By putting aside a percentage of the assets in your will or trust—from 1 to 100 percent—you can leave a legacy with DCC Foundation, while making sure your family has the security they may need in the future.

More Worry-Free Options

There are other ways to contribute to our mission without affecting your income. For instance, you can include us as partial beneficiary—by dividing up your assets in percentages—on your life insurance policy or retirement plan assets. Simply contact your insurance company to ask how you can change beneficiaries in your life insurance policy. In the case of retirement plan assets, ask your retirement plan administrator for a change-of-beneficiary form.

If you give annually and want to extend your support for our work, these are smart ways to leave a lasting legacy without affecting your income, and they still allow you the flexibility to change your mind in case your circumstances—or the economy—changes.

Ask your estate planning attorney how to set these up, or contact Trish Prunty at (845) 431-8402 or prunty@sunydutchess.edu. We're here to help.

Watch Out!

If your children are the beneficiaries of your IRAs and other retirement plan assets, federal income taxes may erode up to 39.6 percent of the amount they receive.
